

80%* OF CHILDHOOD CANCERS ARE CURABLE

The successful treatment at Narayana Health's SRCC Children's Hospital (Mumbai) is an example of this.

I don't remember a lot from the hospital but I heard 'good' and 'normal' a lot. The Doctor always smiled, Maa and papa felt good. After chemo and meeting other doctor they told me I was good now. Then we got ice-cream from the hospital only and it was so yummy.

Isha, age 5, (name changed) survived Stage-V Bilateral Wilms' Tumour. She kept up her brave smile and has a love for all things sweet!

At Narayana Health's SRCC Children's Hospital treating childhood cancer is more than just a surgical procedure, it takes smiles, hope and parently care.

We have a 2500 sq ft. play area, child-friendly environment, 207 beds, 87 Critical Care beds, 3 Tesla MRI, 128 Slice CT Scan, Bi-Plane Cath Lab, and a lot more!

I didn't think I would get cancer. From TV and internet all I know was that tobacco or bad habits cause cancer so getting bone cancer was a shock. My whole family couldn't believe it. The doctors were very supportive and determined to help me. After the mega prosthesis surgery, I was not sure how life would be. Will it be normal? Will I be treated differently?

I decided to be more than just cancer. I am going to be a doctor too! Help people how NH SRCC doctors and nurses helped me. Once I crack my NEET exam.

Shreya, 14 (name changed) survived Ewing Sarcoma. We're sure her dedication will make her a successful and kind Doctor!

I had to go to hospital so many times. It was very difficult. But after some time I got okay. Doctor aunty always helped mummy and I think they became friends. I was happy to go home, but we still meet Doctor, she checks on me.

Piyush, age 8 (name changed) survived Blood Cancer. Early diagnosis was key in his treatment. Piyush is thriving at school and deciding between becoming a policeman and doctor! Eitherway, we're rooting for him!

Our commitment & care for patients doesn't end at the success of their treatment.

Narayana Health's SRCC Children's Hospital introduces After Completion of Therapy (ACT) Clinic to facilitate childhood cancer survivors through apt assessment of their present condition and guidance for their cancer free future.

ACT Clinic - Every 1st and 3rd Tuesday, 2 to 5 pm
